

The broadcast flag proposal limits consumer freedom, will restrict the free flow of information, and will hamper true innovation in the digital economy.